NEW ASSESSMENT ROLL COMPLETED

READY FOR EQUALIZATION

Slight Increase in Valuation Over That of Last Year Is Shown by the New Assessment

City Assessor Philip C. Carter has completed the city's assessment roll for the current year. The total valuation shown is $1,230,270. This amount is divided about as follows: land, $777,000; improvements, $394,000; personal, $50,000.

The increase over the amount of the assessment roll for last year is somewhat less than had been expected. Last year's total was a little more than $1,189,000, making the increase $41,000.

The assessment roll now goes to the city trustees who will sit as a board of equalization. After that process the trustees will fix the tax rate for the coming year on the basis of the new assessment.

NEED FOR BUILDING ORDINANCE

An ordinance requiring the issuance of building permits for construction work of any kind within the city limits would serve many good purposes. Violations of existing regulations governing such work would be more easily guarded against than now. And there are other regulations which ought to be imposed. Such an ordinance should provide for the inspection of water, gas and sewer plumbing and electric wiring, and other sanitary conditions. Not the least among the advantages would be the keeping of a complete building record, showing clearly the city's growth and improvement. Nearly every city and town has such an ordinance and is able to make a complete and ready showing of what is being done from month to month.

ANOTHER RATE FIGHT

The arbitrary fixing of public utilities by legislative bodies received another setback recently when the trustees of the city of Watts decided that $1.00 a month was enough for domestic water users to pay as a minimum charge. The company went into court and proved to the satisfaction of the tribunal that such a rate meant financial destruction. The city has now passed an ordinance putting the rate at $1.25 which is acceptable to the company, with a charge of 15 cents per 1,000 gallons for excess water. It is easy enough to decide that rates ought to be lower than they are, but it is not always easy to make them stick. The practice of charging all the traffic will bear was followed by an epidemic of rate-regulation which would often mean confiscation. Some day a happy medium will be reached when rate making will be put upon a really "scientific basis" for keeps.

NEW SANTA FE AGENT

S. F. Borden has been relieved as the station agent for the Santa Fe at Santa Anita. His place has been filled by Agent Anthony who comes from Rialto. Mr. Borden occupied the post about three years. He may accept a position in the general officers of the road in Los Angeles.

LONG TELEPHONE WIRE

Laurel Steinberger and Forest Ranger John Grand came out from the West Ford of the San Gabriel Monday, having just completed the telephone line to Pine Flats. The line affords a measure of fire protection to a large district in the mountains back of Sierra Madre, by putting some of the remote points in direct communication with the outside world. Telephones are now installed at Hoegge's Camp on Winter's Creek, at Sturtevant's camp in the West Fork of the Big Santa Anita, at the ranger's cabin in the West Fork of the San Gabriel, and at Pine Flats. The importance of telephone communication for giving warning of the outbreak of fires and summoning aid can hardly be overestimated.

Grand came out partly for the purpose of filing information against a young sport from Los Angeles who could find nothing better in the mountains than the telephone wire for target practice. He shot the wire in two at a point about a mile below Grand's cabin in the West Fork. Steinberger overtook him Monday at Sturtevant's Camp as he was coming out, and held him there till he could summon Grand to deal with him. It is to be hoped he will get his just deserts. Grand also filed information against another man who had left an unprotected camp fire near the timber on Pine Flats. Such fools as these are usually responsible for disastrous forest fires like that now raging in the San Bernardino mountains.

SAW AN OBJECT LESSON

Editor Herbert Crooks of the San Fernando Press spent a few hours in Sierra Madre last Saturday, it being his first visit to Sierra Madre. What he saw made him wish he had come earlier and resolve that it would not be the last visit. Just at present he is busy with a warm fight over the question of incorporating San Fernando as a city of the sixth class. He has an unusually pestilent bunch of knockers who oppose every progressive step of their community and would like to keep it about as archaic as the San Fernando mission. They will know they have been in a fight before Crooks gets through with them. After he had ridden about town in A. S. Mead's auto and learned of the improvements accomplished and under way which could not have been brought to pass without the incorporation of Sierra Madre he was more than ever firmly convinced of the necessity of doing likewise. Paved streets, well kept street lighting, public library, municipal nurse, sanitary regulations, and home rule on the liquor question are among the things which looked mighty good to him. People who think they confer a favor on a town by merely living in it and handing out a bunch of knocks periodically ought to sit down and count their blessings now and then and give thanks to the rest of the community for making them possible. One trouble with them is that they will not listen when a neighbor does a little patriotic boosting. It takes an outsider like Crooks to make them realize how much they have to be thankful for.

MENACE OF FOREST FIRES

Untold damage has been done by forest fires which have been raging through the San Bernardino mountains the past week. Many miles of timber and brush covered land have been burned over. Isolated ranches have been devastated, some of the smaller mountain camp resorts have been destroyed and Squirrel Inn, Idylwild and others saved only by heroic measures. The destruction of the vegetation covering the mountain slopes will serve to reduce water supplies by increasing evaporation. Fortunately there has been no danger of the fire spreading into the Gabriel mountains, which are isolated from the fire stricken range by wide passes. The fire has served as renewed warning of the absolute necessity for the greatest care in handling fire in the mountains. Only about once in a generation do we get a taste of what a fire in the mountains can really mean. But even that is too often. Nobody who lived in Sierra Madre at the time cares again to go through the trying experiences of ten or twelve years ago when a large part of the Sierra Madre range was burned over.

DUNHAM NEW JUSTICE

Frank C. Dunham has been appointed justice of the peace for Pasadena township in which Sierra Madre is located. While the appointment was made by the Board of Supervisors, the selection was really made according to custom by Supervisor Manning of this district.

Justice Dunham succeeds Judge H. H. Klamroth, who had over three and a half years to serve at the time of his death.

The new justice is 27 years of age and has resided in Pasadena for four months. He graduated from the Iowa state university with the degree of A. B., and then took one year of law at the same institution. Later he came to Southern California and located in Los Angeles, finishing his law course at the University of Southern California, where he graduated in June, 1910, one year ago. He was admitted to the California bar about two years ago and in advance of completing his college law course.

Justice Dunham is a son-in-law of M. W. Atwood, of Pasadena, who was the prohibition candidate for congress from this district.

CONGREGATIONAL SERVICES

Services will be held at the Congregational church every Sunday morning during the rest of the summer. On Sunday next the pastor, Rev. James M. Campbell D. D., will preach on the subject "A Graded Heaven." Mr. Charles Hall Perry will preside at the organ.

During the rest of the month the pulpit supply will be as follows: August 13, Rev. H. C. Waddell of Los Angeles, director of the Evangelical Prayer Union; August 20, Dean E. C. Norton, D. D., of Pomona college; August 27, Rev. Edward Campbell of Long Beach, formerly a resident of this place.

Sunday school services will be held as usual, beginning at 9:45 a. m. Christian endeavor services will be held each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, this being the only evening service. The topic for next Sunday's service will be "Lessons from Great Lives," Job. This will be the monthly consecration meeting.

NEW LAW ON FIRM NAMES

REGISTRY IS NOW REQUIRED

Fictitious Firm Names Afford No Protection Unless Certified by Real Owners.

Little or no attention has been paid to an important law passed by the last legislature concerning the use of firm names. The Southwest Commercial Bulletin gives some valuable information for the benefit of concerns which come under its scope:

Few business men in Southern California seem to realize the importance of the amended state law governing the use of fictitious names and so far, at least in Los Angeles county, few certificates giving the names of individuals or partners operating under other names than their own have been filed with the county clerk.

Firms operating at the time of the enactment of the amended law, March 23, 1911, are required to file proper certificates on or before September 23 of this year. As yet there is ample time for the fulfilling of these provisions, but as one month is required for the publication of such certificates, action must not be delayed too long. With new firms, certificates must be filed within one month after the formation of the company.

In order that grocers and dealers in kindred lines of goods may secure the proper form for this certificate without difficulty, The Bulletin has secured forms approved by the county clerk of Los Angeles and which may be used anywhere in any county in Southern California. They are as follows:

CERTIFICATE OF BUSINESS UNDER FICTITIOUS NAME

The undersigned hereby certifies that his true name is that he resides at No. street, city of County of State of California and that he is doing business at No. street, in said city of under the style of Signed

In case of partners, the form would be slightly different and may be drafted as follows:

We the undersigned do hereby certify that we are conducting a general mercantile business at No. street, city of state of California under the firm name of and that said firm is composed of the following persons:

..... whose address is street California and whose address is street California

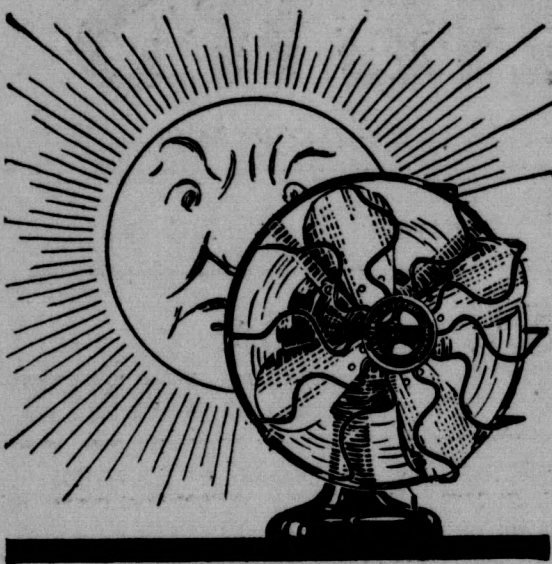

(Give names and addresses of all members of the firm.)

Witness our hands this the day of A. D. 1911.

.....

(Each member of firm sign here.) Whether the certificate is made

HELLO! FROM IOWA?

Our regular annual Summer Outing will be held all day, Saturday, August 12, at Long Beach, in the beautiful grounds known as Alamitos or Bixby Park. This park is a few blocks east of the pier, is only one block from the ocean, and is a cool, delightful, shady, grassy place for a picnic away from the dust and noise of the pier and gives you a chance to meet your own Iowa friends. Free coffee and lemonade will be served if you are wearing the official Iowa badge, but unless you buy our own badge, we cannot give these free. Do not buy badges others offer you.

Special cars will start from the rear of the P. E. depot, in Los Angeles, and run direct to the park. Go down Sixth street to rear of the depot to take specials. If no special is ready, you can go on regular Long Beach cars.

C. H. PARSONS, Secretary.

WATER THE DOG—WATER THE CAT

Be sure to place a dish of fresh water where your dog or cat can easily reach it. Dogs and cats often suffer for lack of fresh water.

Water the horse. Water the chickens. Have something to hold the water—not to tip over and spill it. Hens need water all day long in summer days. Water is cheap. But care is not cheap. It costs thought.

If your dog must be chained, fasten a wire from the corner of your house or barn to a tree or a post, or between two trees. This wire may be thirty feet long. Suspend from the wire a chain or leather strap by a ring which must be large enough to run easily on the wire. The other end of the chain must have a fastening which can attach it to the dog's collar, then he can run up and down the length of the wire and get some exercise, and also get into the shade when the sun is hot.

Dogs do not perspire through their skins as we do, but you may often see the water dripping from their tongues. They need to drink often. A dog should never be muzzled so that he cannot drink, or put out his tongue as he naturally would in hot weather.

Dogs are highly nervous, sensitive and excitable, and many have been seriously injured by the constant irritation and restraint of muzzles.

NOTICE TO PATRONS

A. S. Mead has arranged with E. Wynne Mead to take complete charge of the delivery and other business connected with the Examiner, Times and Herald. All communications and telephone calls connected therewith should be directed to him. Phone Green 18. The business is no longer conducted at Mr. Mead's real estate office.

out by an individual or by members of a co-partnership, the acknowledgment of a notary, in proper form must be attached. This form will be supplied by the notary.

As has been previously explained by The Bulletin, after the certificate has been properly made and acknowledged, it must be published once a week for four weeks in a newspaper printed in the county in which the business is located and an affidavit of publication secured from the publishers of this newspaper. This method of procedure is necessary in order that proof of publication may be shown. After due publication of the notice has been made and an affidavit secured, this affidavit and the original certificate must be filed with the county clerk of the county in which the place of business is located. Firms operating in Los Angeles county will file their certificates with a deputy clerk in Room 10, at the county courthouse.

For the filing of this certificate, a fee of $1 is charged. Two notarial acknowledgements, one for the certificate and one for the affidavit of publication, will also be required, at a cost of 50 cents each, together with the cost of publication, which will vary with conditions. There need be no other expense, as the forms above may be followed without the aid of an attorney.

It must be remembered that the term "fictitious name" applies to any style under which business is done, other than that of the owner or owners, except when the company is incorporated. This applies not only to such names as "Cut Rate Grocery," for example, but to such names as "Smith & Brown," or in any case where the name under which business is done does not include the name and initials of the owner or owners.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 4, 1911

BY THE WAY

A Pasadena clothing firm advertises
"suits half off." Which half?Does the fact that the recall is now available for cities of the sixth class have anything to do with the dearth of candidates for the office of marshal?Fear of doing a thing is not nearly so shameful as the fear of being thought afraid to do it by others. The former may be sensible caution, but the latter is down right cowardice. It is a brave man who gives no heed to the taunt, "You're afraid."Sierra Madre has been without a marshal for a whole week. In spite of which fact there have been no riots, murders, holdups, burglaries or dynamite plots. Perhaps the city has been extravagantly wasting the $72 annual salary of the marshal.Among the funny features of the squabble among the Los Angeles morning papers is the effort of the Otis twins, The Times and the Herald, to make it appear that the situation with regard to the management of the Herald is not different with Peard in charge from what it was with Gibbon in charge. The difference most apparent is that when "the General suggests" Peard falls in line, but when Gibbon was in charge either the General did not "suggest" things to him, or found it useless if he did so.
As a matter of fact Gibbon's control was such that he was not subject to the Otis recall, and consequently was able to conduct the Herald as a really independent paper, while Peard is hired and can be fired by Otis, and conducts the Herald accordingly. All of which ought to help the General appreciate why the people demand the right to fire as well as hire public servants.It looks like class legislation to deprive the boys of their Fourth of July explosives and permit auto and motorcycle owners to run their machines without mufflers. Here's a job for the new marshal, for there is really an ordinance against the offense.Many people think it queer that a printer will not quote a price on a job of printing offhand, even though hours of work might be required to make a detailed estimate of what it will actually cost him to produce. Why should an exception be made of the printer? Will a contractor quote a price on the erection of a house from new plans? Hardly. And yet many a job of printing requires just as complicated figuring and careful study asdoes the erection of a house. Ask an attorney a question about a little point of law and the chances are his reply will be, "I don't know. Couldn't tell without looking that up." Ask a merchant about the price of a single article on his shelves and he may not have to look at the price mark, but ask him what he will sell you a dozen or a gross for and he will first look up his invoice or consult the price current.
When estimating becomes "guestimating" the printer is bound for the rocks.

COMICS EXCORIATED

In an article in Graphic Arts entitled "Pernicious Illustrations," Henry Turner Bailey scathingly arraigns the daily press "for the low status, both in subject matter and technical handling of the humorous illustrations." Mr.
Bailey's article is called "A Resentment Against Prevalent Abasement of Illustration."Mr. Bailey says he bought five papers the morning of January 1st. The five publications contained a total of twenty-four picture-stories.An analysis of this list shows that these pictorial stories dealt with the following topics, to the extent indicated by the figures:

Innocently amusing incidents.....	2
An amusing incident with a point worth making with children.....	2
Neglect of duty without serious consequence to the offender, or with profit	2
A fling at the marriage relation....	3
Making light of personal reform....	3
Doing the right or speaking the truth with unpleasant consequences to the virtuous	4
Some form of successful deception	7
Children getting the better of their elders	8
Some form of assault or fight.....	12

"And this is the entertainment our 'leading' newspapers offer our children at New Year's!" writes Mr. Bailey.
"Unfortunately, it is typical of what the children are offered every day of the year. In ninety-five per cent of all the comic illustrations in the newspapers of our country the outwitting of constituted authority, the successful neglect of duty, the misfortunes of innocence and goodness, the wisdom of trusting to luck and the folly of efforts to reform, are perpetual topics."A worse pabulum for young America could hardly be concocted by Satan himself. The combined influences of the home, the public schools, and all the churches together are hardly sufficient to undo the mischief wrought in the minds of children by this neverceasing flood of hell-broth."

Majestic

The regular season at the Majestic theater will be inaugurated August 13th, when William A. Brady's company direct from Daly's theater, New York will present "Baby Mine." This is Margaret Mayo's remarkably successful comedy which delighted the theatergoers of New York for an entire theatrical year and which is now being played with marked success in London and Berlin, while companies are being organized to produce the play in a number of other continental cities.
The "Baby Mine" company will come direct from New York to Los Angeles, making the trans-continental journey without any intermediate stops.

Some Statements Worthy of Careful Consideration by the Home Builder

Advantages of the Sierra Madre Park Tract No. 1

CLOSE IN. This tract is located just one block from the intersection of Central and Baldwin Avenues. This makes it very convenient to stores, postoffice, etc., and every house-keeper knows how much more satisfactory it is to do her own marketing rather than leave the matter to delivery clerks. The closeness to cars should also appeal to commuters. Of course there are some who get up early enough to walk half a mile in the mornings before their car leaves and who come home at night so refreshed that they appreciate a half mile climb up 10 per cent grade as an appetizer for dinner, but the average commuter is not so constituted. After standing up in the slow evening car for over an hour, he much prefers walking only a block or two down the hill than all the combined inspiration and perspiration of hill climbing. It is to this man that we offer the Sierra Madre Park Tract. Remember that the close-in property always advances quickest in value.

CHARACTER OF IMPROVEMENTS—The most frequent and justifiable complaint made against Sierra Madre by strangers is the great number of shacks scattered about. Now there are shacks and shacks, and the very fact that a place is small does not necessarily argue against it. But it is an easily proven fact that the poorest kept places as regards the condition of building and yards are the little places that were built in such numbers four or five years ago. These have gone to pieces and are now an eyesore and in many cases a positive menace to health. More than one man has sold out at a sacrifice and left Sierra Madre in disgust because someone erected a little shack alongside or across the street from his beautiful home. The purchasing public is getting wise and today 90 per cent of the improvements going up in Sierra Madre are in the restricted districts. Owing to building restrictions, shacks in the Sierra Madre Park Tract are impossible and with our adjoining Hawks' Addition and Valley View Tracts, with their restrictions, the danger of any shacks in that part of town has been reduced to a minimum. Buy where your property cannot be injured by your neighbors.

Advantages of the Sierra Madre Park Tract No. 2

CHARACTER OF SOIL—The soil of Sierra Madre varies from the thin, rocky soil near the mountains, to a deep, rich, loamy land in the south end of town. Everyone to his taste. If you want to develop your muscle and patience and spend money on fertilizers, try lawns and flowers on some of the upper stretches. You certainly get your money's worth when it comes to putting in long time for little returns. After you have about given up in despair, let us show you places in the southeast section of town where in two years people have turned bare land into veritable flower gardens, with $\frac{1}{4}$ the effort of our friend on the hill. If you enjoy flowers, grass, a nice garden and fruits, the Sierra Madre Park Tract has the soil to produce these things.

A. S. MEAD, Real Estate, Loans, Insurance

Advantages of the Sierra Madre Park Tract No. 5

SIZE OF LOTS — The average Sierra Madre lot is 50x150 ft. The average back yard contains about one-fourth garden, one-fourth chicken pens, and the balance in weeds. Large lots are alright for farmers or those who can afford to hire a gardener. But why buy land on which to raise only weeds. The Sierra Madre Park Tract lots are 54x117 and are laid off to prevent weed patches. This is as much as an average man will keep clean and it is very evident that a tract of well kept places is preferable to an ill-kept neighborhood. These lots have the width for lawns and walks instead of depth for weeds or other offensive occupants which your neighbors might harbor. The value of a home lot is determined less by its size than by its surroundings.

Advantages of the Sierra Madre Park Tract No. 3

VIEWS—The distinctive charm of Sierra Madre is its beautiful scenery. Other foothill towns have our advantages of climate, soil, water, etc., but not one of them can offer such a panorama of mountains and valley as we find here. It is our best asset. Hence the more view you can get from any particular point, the more valuable that place must become. From the highest points of town, one gets a magnificent view of the valley. From the south end you get an equally fine view of the mountains and canyons. In comparatively few places do you get an equally splendid view of both valley and mountains. The Sierra Madre Park Tract is so located as to command one of the finest of these doubleheader outlooks. If you are looking for a magnificent view why not locate where you can get twice as much for your money?

BUILDING ARRANGEMENTS: As advertised several weeks ago we have made arrangements with a local builder by the terms of which he will furnish the money and erect you a house at cost. You can then pay for it by the month. This makes it possible for the man with little capital to own his home, paying for it as he now pays rent. At the same time he saves from 5 to 10 per cent on cost of construction and pays only 7 per cent interest instead of the 10 to 20 per cent of the building and loan companies. This is undoubtedly the most satisfactory building plan ever offered in Sierra Madre and we will be pleased to have you come to us for further information concerning it.

VIENNA DEATH NOTICES.

They Read Like an Extract From a Family History.

"Don't die in Vienna. You'll be sorry if you do," writes an American on his first visit to that city, "not because of the usual objections, but on account of the death notices in the papers. They appear flanked by all sorts of ads. and range in size according to the desire for notice on the part of the family of the late lamented. Every possible title is mentioned, and the name of every member of the family goes to make up the notice. A death announcement black bordered and covering half a page of the paper is nothing unusual. Here is a sample:

"Bruno Weiss, purveyor of lubricating oil to his imperial and royal majesty, and his wife, Amalie—born Hortsitzky—in their own and in the names of their children—Hans, Otto, Minna, Laura and Hilde—and their sons-in-law, Military Surgeon Dr. Lois Krobinsky and Architect Oskar Jellinek; their daughters-in-law, Louise, born Lederman, and Marie, born Anspacker, as also in the names of their grandchildren—here follows a long string of names—and their mother and mother-in-law, Frau Ernestine Winkler, relict of Commercial Councilor Anton Winkler, announce to their friends the entrance into eternal rest, after a long and severe illness, of their dearly beloved son, Arthur, in the twenty-sixth year of his age."

"This is correct except as to the names."—New York Tribune.

He Was Just Thinking.

"Mary," said a man to his spouse, who was gifted with a rapidly moving tongue, "did you ever hear the story of the precious gems?"

"No," she replied. "What is it?"

"It's a fairy legend that my grandmother told me when I was a boy," the husband continued. "It was about a woman from whose lips fell a diamond or a ruby at every word she spoke."

"Well?" said his wife as he pause.

"That's all there is of it, my dear," he replied. "But I was just thinking if such things happened nowadays I could make my fortune as a jeweler."

Love of Trees.

We find our most soothing companionship in trees among which we have lived, some of which we ourselves may have planted. We lean against them, and they never betray our trust, they shield us from the sun and from the rain, their spring welcome is a new birth which never loses its freshness, they lay their beautiful robes at our feet in autumn; in winter they stand and wait, emblems of patience and of truth, for they hide nothing, not even the little leaf buds which hint to us of hope, the last element in their triple symbolism.—Dr. O. W. Holmes.

Until 1870 it was against the law and sacred custom for any subject to look at the emperor of Japan. His political advisers and attendants saw only his back. When he first left the palace the shutters of all the houses had to be drawn, and no one was permitted in the streets. Even today, when the emperor has the privilege of driving through the streets like one of his subjects, it is not considered quite proper to cast a glance at him.

Boiling Alive.

The last instance of boiling to death took place in Persia in 1890. The offender was guilty of stealing state revenues and was put into a large caldron of cold water, which was slowly heated to the boiling point. His bones were distributed as a warning among the provincial tax collectors.

Heart to Heart Talks.By EDWIN A. NYE.*THE PLAY OF CHILDREN.

Said a mother:

"I am afraid all our children play too much. They get too much pleasure. When they grow up they will not want to work."

What a mistake!

Play is work. The joy of it disguises the fact that it is work—usually hard work. And the truth is the child that plays with the most zest is apt to work with the most zeal.

Play is joyous activity.

It makes muscle. Better than all the gymnastic exercises you force upon the child is the natural activity of healthful play. Play is the expression of the body in joy.

Play strengthens the brain. In all active games the child must think quickly. It must choose, decide, weigh things instantly, make up its mind what to do.

Play develops the emotions. Watch the children at their games. See hope, fear, courage, patience and self control chase themselves over their bright faces.

Well, then—

How shall you better develop the child's body, mind and spirit?

One of the great students of the child mind has wisely observed that children are young because they play rather than that they play because they are young. The child that does not play is old—prematurely old.

And men and women also grow old when they stop playing.

Watch men at play—at a ball game, say. Watch women at play—at a party or a church festival. Note how young their faces appear.

We Americans do not play enough.

One of the most beautiful things you will see in Germany or in France is a family picnic. From granny down to the smallest mite they rest and play—play as the spirit moves them—let dull care slip away for a day.

And these family excursions are frequent.

We need to hold on to the adage, seldom heard nowadays, but a sound one, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

Play useless and unfit?

Why, it is the greatest boon humanity is blessed with, and it is a pity we do not carry over into our work the zest and buoyancy of children's play. As a matter of fact, the best work is done in that spirit.

Urge the children to play.

Soon enough will come the evil days when they shall fall into the plodding, joyless labors of so many adult humans.

His Complete Triumph.

"Uncle Rastus, I thought they had sent you to jail again on the usual charge."

"No, sub; I's vindicated dis time. De judge couldn't quite make up his mind, an' he turned me loose an' said I musn't do it again."—Chicago Tribune.

"GROW OLD ALONG WITH ME"By JAMES M. CAMPBELL

A new book by a Sierra Madre author. Just published by the Fleming H. Revell Co. Cloth, gilt top, $1.25

THE art of growing old gracefully has never been presented in a more sympathetic way than by the author of this delightful book.

The title, taken from Browning's Rabbi Ben Ezra, springs from a common desire on the part of men and women to know how others look at life when the crest of the hill has been reached and the downward journey begun. Dr. Campbell's modern presentation of the subject is certain to awake a responsive chord in thousands who are beginning to taste "the last of life for which the rest was made."—Pub's. Announcement

Quick Death to Hen Lice and Mites

Hen lice, chicken lice, and mites, cost the poultryman more money than all the other items of poultry expense combined. They are responsible for more disease and more poor egg records than all other causes together. They infest brooders and roosting places, and multiply by tens of thousands a week. But they can be positively exterminated at a mighty small cost compared to the saving.

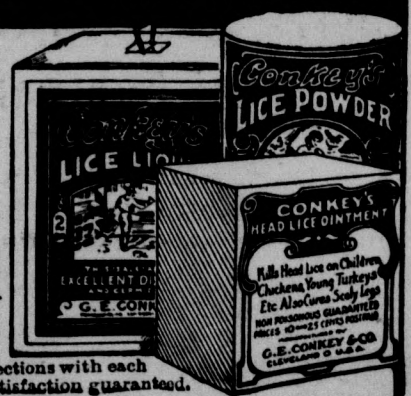

CONKEY'S INVINCIBLE TRIO—

Lice Powder, Lice Liquid and Lice Ointment—does the work. Conkey's Lice Powder will kill all body lice. An unequalled disinfectant and a positive germicide. 25c; 50c; $1.00.

Conkey's Lice Liquid is a positive death dealer to mites and lice. A germicide and preventive. Penetrates crevices where powder will not. Harmless to fowls of any age. Qt. 35c; Gal. $1.00.

Conkey's Head Lice Ointment is the only positive exterminator on the market for the parasites that pester little chicks and cause them to droop and die. 10c and 25c.

These wonderful remedies sold in quantities to suit purchaser. Complete directions with each package. Used by thousands of poultrymen throughout the United States. Satisfaction guaranteed.

AT THE THEATERS

Burbank

From the Burbank theater comes the announcement that "Kindling," Chas. Kenyon's powerful drama of the slums, will hold the boards for another week. This continuance is made necessary by the fact that there has been an almost unprecedented demand for seats to see Miss Illington and the Burbank players in what is unquestionably one of the greatest dramatic triumphs in the history of local stock companies. Up to the present time "Kindling" has been given to capacity houses, and so large has been the demand for seats that it has been impossible to accommodate all who have wanted to witness this play. There have been enough people turned away from the performances already given to fill the Burbank for another week.

Pantages

It's fun, music and girls at Pantages next week, with two big comedy features, a pair of singing and dancing numbers, the same of comedy juggling and acrobatic turns, with beauty all through the bill. The claimants of steller honors are Hoey and Lee, and in a poorer bill they would be pre-eminent, though here they will have strong competition for the place. What these two do to the language that made Webster famous is shameful to relate, but it makes everybody happy while it lasts. Their Yiddisher dialect is a joy, and their parodies are guaranteed to chase the glooms. They also dance and—what dancing.

Their rivals for the big type will be Keough and Nelson of whom it is said that Mr. Keough is clever and handsome, and Miss Nelson is handsome and clever. As the Greek slave girl in a scene from Ingomar she makes a surpassingly beautiful stage picture while Keough in the same scene, as Polydor the Miser gives a striking characterization. This act is one of quick transformation, and the audience is carried in one mysterious moment from Modern America to Ancient Greece.

Belasco

The Belasco theater company will next week offer Clyde Fitch's comedy success, "Girls." The performance of this very delightful comedy will serve to introduce as regular members of the Belasco company Miss Bessie Barriscale and Howard Hickman, both of whom are well known to theater-goers of Los Angeles by reason of their previous appearances here in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and still more recently as a headline feature at the Orpheum.

No happier selection for Miss Barriscale's entry into the local theatrical field could have been selected than this sprightly comedy which in many ways resembles a modern setting of "The Taming of the Shrew." The story of "Girls" has to do with a trio of young girls who form an anti-marriage association.

Donald Bowles will have the role of Edgar Holt, the hero of the play, while Thais Magrane will be seen in the part of Pamela, the ring-leader of the trio of girls. Miss Barriscale will have a part in "Girls" that will give her an opportunity to display her winsomeness and charm, and at the same time permits her to prove her worth as a comedienne of far more than ordinary merit. Mr. Hickman will be seen as the senior clerk of a law firm—a young man who has never had an opportunity to enjoy feminine society, and looks upon all womankind with a decided aversion.
